A Paper For Each Party.

There ought to be a political week ly newspaper representing each of the great parties in every county; where there is no such weekly, one ought to be established. It does not cost much to start or conduct a weekly newspaper, if the ready-print ecoperative plan of publication is adopted. It can be owned and edited prolong its life. After being dressed by the same man. The country weekly has far more influence in pro-ln coal tar as it is to be under the portion to its circulation than the ground. The country weekly comes much nearer reflecting the sentiment of the community than the large daily. In fact, in every contest between the unorganized masses on the one side and organized wealth on the other, the big newspapers are generally on the side of organized wealth, and this fact has become so notorious that candidates are often elected with practically all of the daily papers against Rats or mice will not gnaw at har-

The editorial page of the weekly ought to be large enough to present briefly its party's side of the questions upon which the people are thinking. Having local as well as general politics to consider, the country weekly cannot; of course, give the attention to national questions that a national paper can, for a national paper does not have to devote any space to local questions, but each issue of the country weekly ought to contain a discussion, however brief, of the more important questions before the country.

Necessary Increase of Price.

It is a noticable fact that many newspapers which have been sold for years at one cent a copy have been forced to advance to two cents in order-to make a reasonable return on the capital invested. This has been brought about largely by the big increase in operating expenses, the pay roll on most newspapers having advanced faster than the receipts the past few years. Another reason for the advance in price is the increased cost of white paper, the increase being about thirty-three per cent.

Cheap paper and a reasonable pay roll have made possible the one cent daily. Remove these possibilities, however, and the publishers are compelled to seek some new method of increasing revenue.

Congressman Snapp, in an address delivered before some Illinois newspaper publishers, gave the editors a lot of excellent advice when he said: "You newspaper men have seen the price of everything else advance. but you have hung back and refused to increase the price of your papers. Everything has gone up. The price of labor in the printing business has advanced twice. The cost of paper has gone up enormously. And you sat still and took the loss meekly. What you ought to do is to get together and meet the condition by advancing the price of your product to the public to correspond to the other advances."

A HILL SIDE CHICKEN COOP. Every year during the breeding season thousands of chicks are stunted and dwarfed by being over-crowded in undesirable coops. A Grewsome Murder Mystery Comes to Light When Five Murdered Bodies Are Unearthed in the Yard of the Home of Mrs. Gunness, Who With Her Three Children, Was Burned to Death Last Tues-

Laporte, Ind., Special.-One of the most grewsome murder mysteries ever unearthed in this section of the sountry came to light when the bodies of five persons, all of them nurdered, were found in the yard of the home of Mrs. Belle Gunness, who, with three of her children, was burnid to death on the night of April

So far, only two of the bodies have een identified. These are Andrew Heldgren, who came to this city from Aberdeen, S. D., for the purose of marrying Mrs. Gunness, whose acquaintance he had made through a matrimonial bureau. The other is that of Jennie Olsen Gunness, a Chicago girl. who had been adopted by Mrs. Gunness. She disappeared in September, 1906, and it as said had gone to Los Angeles to attend school. The other bodies were those of two men and a woman. None of them has been as yet identi-

The body of Heldgren was disnembered and the arms, legs, trunk and head were buried in different parts of the yard.

It is believed by the authorities that Guy Lamphere, who has been under arrest since the burning of the Junness home, on the charge of murlering Mrs. Gunness and her family, committed the Heldgren crime amphere is a carpenter and the manner in which the body of Heldgren was dismembered leads to the belief that it was done by somebody familiar with the use of a saw.

In some quarters it is believed that Mrs. Gunness may have known something of the murders of the five people. There have been rumors that Jennie Olsen Gunness had knowledge of the manner in which the first husband of Mrs. Gunness came to his leath in Chicago. Little is known, however, on this subject.

It is known that Heldgren had oaned $1,500 to Mrs. Gunness and that he had another $1,500 in his possession just prior to his death It is believed that he was killed by wandering cats, rats or weasles. TAPE WORMS IN SHEEP. Tape worms are often very troublesome in the flock of sheep, especially among the lambs. It does not take them very long to spread over the entire flock, causing deaths in rapid succession. In reply to a query as to the best way to get rid of this pest, the Breeders' Gazette says: Tape worms are the cause of death. After fasting give each lamb in four ounces of new milk the following medicine: Oil of male fern, 1-2 dram; powdered aroca nut, one dram; turpentine, one dram; mix. Follow with a dose of castor oil. In drenching lambs set patient on rump and give the medicine from a bottle to the neck of which is attached a four-inch length of rubber hose. It is always safest to dose one or two lambs experlimentally, note results and decrease or increase dose as found necessary in treating rest of flock. For adult sheep, twice the above amount.

What is Pe-ru-na?

Is it a Catarrh Remedy, or a Tonic or is it Both?

Some people call Peruna a great tonic. Others refer to Peruna as a great catarrh remedy.

Which of these people are right? Is it more proper to call Peruna a tarrh remedy than to call it a tonio? Our reply is, that Peruna is both a tonic and a catarrh remedy. Indo there can be no effectual catarrh remedy that is not also a tolkic. In order to thoroughly relieve any case of catarrh, a remady must not co have a specific action on the mucous membranes affected by the estarth, bu must have a general tonic action on the nervous system.

Catarrh, even in persons who are otherwise strong, is a weakened en tion of some mucous membrane. There must be something to strengthen circulation, to give tone to the arteries, and to raise the vital forces. Perhaps no vegetable remedy in the world has attracted so much attent from medical writers as HYDRASTIS CANADKESIS. The wonderful office of this herb has been recognized many years, and is growing in its h upon the medical profession. When joined with CURKES and COPATE trio of medical agents is formed in Peruna which constitutes a specific r edy for catarrh that in the present state of medical progress cannot be proved upon.
